Jamie McClintock

Objective

To gain experience in editing, writing, and communications in order to continue pursuing a career in editing, managing, and publishing.

Experience

Miller Writing Center Tutor Fall 2014-Present

- Help students with all types of personal and academic writing.
- Write blog posts for the Miller Writing Center's blog.

ePortfolio Student Ambassador Fall 2014-Present

- Work with students and faculty to create personal, reflective ePortfolios.
- Create and maintain my own ePortfolio.
- Present at regional conferences on Auburn's ePortfolio Project and Ambassador Program.

Managing Editor of The Auburn Circle Fall 2014-Spring 2015

- Organize and print submissions.
- Communicate with staff of 20 students.
- Assist the Editor-in-chief with any magazine-related duties including t-shirt orders, distribution of the magazine to the student body, and planning our release party, SNAPS.

Editor-in-chief of The Auburn Circle Fall 2015-Present

- Conduct all magazine-related correspondences.
- Attend weekly student media meetings and monthly budget meetings.
- Lead a staff of 23 students and delegate tasks.
- Responsible for all magazine events and activities including the production of the magazine, distribution of the magazine, and promotional events.

Education

Auburn University (junior) 2013-Present

4.0 GPA, Major: Professional and Public Writing, Minor(s): French and Journalism, National Merit Scholar

Relevant Course Work: Introduction to Professional Writing, Survey of Rhetoric, , Principles of Financial Accounting, Concepts of Communications and Journalism, Technical Editing, Topics in Writing, Advanced Composition, Journalism Fundamentals

Skills

Proficient in InDesign, Microsoft Office, editing, and writing.